MURRAY WILL NOT CONTEST SEATING OF R. C. ELY

No Active Opposition to Be Undertaken in Courts; Bond- holders Plan to Buy Is Con- firmed.

C. C. Murray, newly a few days ago member of the New Mexico Central Railway company, will not take any legal steps to contest the appointment of Ralph C. Ely to succeed him, it was stated today by a man intimate with the former receiver. The same man explained the statement made in yesterday's Herald to the effect that the bondholders were planning to buy in the road and thus leave Mr. Ely suspended above the receivership which would thus become non-existent.

Mr. Murray is not going to take legal measures against the appointment of Mr. Ely as receiver, said this informant, "nor are there to be any steps toward lifting the injunction down by Judge Abbott in his criticism of Mr. Murray. All that we are going to do is to get the bondholders to put in the road if possible. That is our plan."

The purchase of the system of the bondholders, it was stated, would assure continued operation of the road equally as much as the recent statement from Receiver R. C. Ely that it would be kept running and would in addition leave the way open for purchase of the system by other interest or for its development at the hands of capitalists who might be interested by the bondholders.

ROUNDHOUSE WORKMAN IS PAINFULLY HURT

Frank Fernando, a roundhouse workman, slipped from the running board of a slowly moving locomotive early yesterday morning and was crushed between the engine and the roundhouse wall. His right clavicle was splintered and he was severely bruised about the shoulders. He is recovering at the Santa Fe hospital.

BLANKETS A PLENTY FOR WIDOW AND LITTLE ONES

Surplus of Coverings Sent to City Hall, Where They Will Be Kept for Other Cases of Destitution.

Not only blankets enough for the widow and six children, whose coverless plight was made public the other day, have been donated by generous Albuquerqueans, but a goodly supply for cases of the sort that may arise during the course of the cold weather.

There was a big stack of blankets, besides a stock of provisions and fuel, at the widow's house this morning; she has coverings enough now for her family to withstand a rigorous siege of Arctic weather.

Blankets and money to be applied to relief work have been received by the mayor from charitable folk, moved by articles appearing in the papers. The Commercial club sent the mayor today a big pile of bed-clothes.

From the stock thus provided the mayor will supply such needy individuals or families who may be brought to his attention. The mayor is acting overseer of the pool, and there is no question but that good use will be found for all the blankets sent to the city hall before the winter's end.

WATCHMAN STONE ADMITS ABUSING HIS WIFE AS CHARGED

L. M. Stone, a Merchant Association watchman, was arraigned in the city court today on complaint of his wife. She charged him with abusing her.

Stone admitted mistreating his wife and Judge Craig fined him $30 or 30 days in jail. A 90-day sentence has been hanging over him since a recent arrest, at which time a slungshot was found in his possession. The slungshot was classed as a deadly weapon, and it kept the two-months sentence. The penalty was suspended upon Stone's promise to behave.

RETAIL MERCHANTS GIVE LITHGOW ENDORSEMENT

Association's Prosperous Con- dition Ascribed to His Un- tiring Efforts in First 1915 Bulletin.

The local Retail Merchants' association, in a bulletin issued yesterday, ascribes its present prosperous condition to the work of H. E. Lithgow, its president. The bulletin gives a resume of the association's condition which is very flattering in part, it is as follows:

Thanks to the untiring efforts of President Lithgow, the board of directors, and the members of the Retail Merchants' association coupled with the loyal support of the entire membership, the Albuquerque Retail Merchants' association will begin the new year in a healthy and flourishing condition.

The legislative committee has been steadily working in conjunction with the state officers toward the obtaining of more favorable legislation for the retailer. An amendment to the present attachment law, now in the hands of the state secretary at Santa Fe, stands a good chance of being passed by the next legislature. If passed it will mean the collection of thousands of dollars that are now exempt, and rightfully should be on the right side of the bank accounts of the merchants of the state.

The trades relation committee has been active, amicably adjusting the grievances that have arisen from time to time during the year.

The committee on graft advertising has turned down a number of its by night "advertising men" who would have taken out of town several hundred dollars of perfectly good money, and left instead a few time cards, etc., and a creel of advertisements tacked up in a few obscure places.

All bills are paid to date. A desk and typewriter, ordered purchased by the board of directors, are half paid for. They were rented with the understanding that the rent apply on the purchase price, hence the balances are not counted as bills payable.

There are sixty-eight active members now and six or seven prospective members who have promised to come in on the first of the year.

The credit files are as near complete as possible, and with the cooperation the secretary now receives from the members, they will be kept continually up-to-date.

The association now boasts a membership as large as any like organization, in any city the size of Albuquerque, in the country, where only bona fide retailers are eligible. There is nothing in the confines of our little city but that it equals or in most cases exceeds anything of the kind that is found in any city of like population.

READY TO RAISE THIRD STREET TROLLEY TRACKS

Assistant District Attorney H. B. Jamison has apprised the county commissioners that the traction company will gladly raise the level of the tracks on South Third street and eliminate puddles in the roadway. Complaint was lodged with the county board regarding the condition of the street, and Mr. Jamison was asked to study the traction company's franchise. Mr. Jamison laid the matter before M. O. Chadbourn, general manager of the traction company, and was promptly assured that the company would raise the tracks to any grade fixed by the commissioners.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

At a general assembly this morning Mr. Gilmer urged that many of the students join the Debating club. Very little work in debating has been done at this time but under the management of Thomas Collins as president it promises to become quite an interesting organization.

Miss Eusebia Hoppe today entered the Freshman class to take up her high school course.

A general assembly was called this morning. Mr. Gilmer remarked a "loveliness of spirit and earnestness" which he wished that it would continue throughout the school year.

TEXAS JURY GIVES FRANK SHERER $11,250 VERDICT

Judge W. C. Hendrick, attorney for Frank G. Sherer, has received word that the second trial of the crippled brakeman's suit against the Texas & Pacific railroad for $39,000 has resulted in a verdict for $11,250. The first trial resulted in a hung jury. The jurymen being unable to agree on the amount of a verdict.

The Sherer case led Judge Hendrick to protest in the mayor against payment to Dr. L. G. Rice, city physician, by the city for the time he spent at Fort Worth during the two trials as a witness against Sherer. Dr. Rice testified in effect that Sherer was pretending paralysis.

According to Judge Hendrick the testimony brought out that Dr. Rice was receiving $25 a day and his expenses from the railroad and that he was an eye physician who went on and off the protest frequently.

were slated for the session. County Superintendent Atanacio Montoya has received a letter from H. W. Focht, the specialist in rural school practice who recently surveyed the rural schools of the state, commending the Bernalillo schools and Mr. Montoya highly. The schools, Mr. Focht writes, are as good as and well taught as the best to be found in the greater and richer states of the middle west.

Stationmaster J. E. Enchil followed a boy taking a rocket fire from the railroad yards yesterday, and came upon a case of diphtheria. The boy took the fire to 429 John street, where his mother, Mrs. Lucy Minchhart, lay ill, with six other children shivering under a Chin coverlet. There were no other coverings in the house, so food and so fuel. Stationmaster Enchil took steps at once for the relief of the family.
